Our Story

On January 5, 1914 in a coffee house on Clinton Street, three men met on the eve of the Theophany. As they reminisced about the observance of the holy days in their homeland, the idea to found a church of the Orthodox faith in their new country was born.

The original founding charter of the parish is dated May 3, 1914. A two-family wooden house located at 107 Clinton Street was purchased for the purpose of using it as a church. On April 19, 1915, the certificate of incorporation of the Hellenic Orthodox Church of Saint George of Schenectady, New York was signed, executed and acknowledged by the first priest of the parish, Rev. Andreas Constantinides. Over the next two decades the parish grew with the influx of Greek immigrants to Schenectady.

A devastating loss occurred on February 7, 1937 at 3:14 am when a fire of unknown origin erupted and the church was completely destroyed. Determined to rebuild their church out of the ashes, the 150 member families joined together to raise $45,000 and the cornerstone for a new church was laid in September of 1937. In 1939, the new and present day St. George Greek Orthodox Church was completed.

In the decades which followed, the parish was active and thriving. Youth organizations were formed, the annual Greek Festival began & our youth participated in the Junior Greek Olympics in Syracuse.

St. George Church celebrated the 100th anniversary of its founding with a Diamond Jubilee Gala on Saturday, April 25, 2015 celebrated by His Grace, Bishop Dimitrios of Xanthos along with the presiding priest of St. George and local Greek Orthodox clergy.

Today St. George Church has significantly fewer member families than it had during the peak years of the 1960s. The family structure in today's society spans a much larger geographical area. Inter-faith marriages are much more common than in past years and with each new generation, careers and job opportunities often lead to distant locations. Although the world has changed much over the past 100 years, the members of St. George today remain firm in their resolve to maintain their Orthodox faith and honor their heritage not only for the present but for tomorrow and the future generations to come.
